

I oppose powerline communications. It has been ruled impractical in Japan and would cause unprecedented interference to amateur radio and emergency communications.